

Signs Hopeful In UAW Deal With Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — An air of optimism hovered today over contract negotiations between the United Auto Workers Union and Chrysler Corp., which faces the possibility of a strike next Wednesday.

UAW President Walter Reuther emerged from a late night meeting of bargaining subcommittees Friday and told newsmen he detected hopeful signs in the form of a "give-and-take" atmosphere at the sessions.

Both sides insisted, however, that no final decisions had been reached in major matters. Most of the talks Friday centered around non-economic issues.

Reuther told reporters at the end of a day of morning, afternoon and evening meetings that he was more encouraged than he had been previously over the progress being made in the subcommittees. They are doing "some meaningful work," he explained.

John Leary, Chrysler vice-president heading the company's bargaining team, said there were no new proposals from either side, however.

Reuther announced he was prepared to begin much more intensive and extended bargaining at the main negotiating table today.

Unless the pace is stepped up, he said, "we will have reached the point of no return where there will be a strike—and the time element will be against us. If we don't start (Saturday), it will be too late."

The union has singled out Chrysler as its strike target in this year's negotiations with the Big Three automakers, fixing 10 a.m. Wednesday as the deadline for reaching an agreement at the bargaining table if a walkout is to be prevented.

Contracts with Chrysler, General Motors and Ford would have expired Aug. 31, but have been extended by mutual agreement until Sept. 9.

Fake Physician Spurs Checkup

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley called Friday for "a sweeping review of registration and licensing procedures which he said permitted an unlicensed Michigan man to masquerade as a physician for four years without being discovered."

Kelley said he had learned from the State Board of Registration in Medicine that it has only one investigator in the entire state, which has more than 8,000 medical physicians.

Kelley reported Thursday that Thomas M. Novak, 29, of Litchfield, had earned $85,000 during four years while posing as a physician.

Novak had no medical degree and apparently picked up his medical knowledge while visiting different medical schools "and simply putting on a white coat to walk into a hospital," Kelley said.

No charges yet have been placed against Novak but William P. Long, an assistant Wayne County prosecutor, said he expects to request a warrant next week.

Kelley said Novak might be charged with practicing medicine without a license.

Foes In Peking Called Wreckers By Khrushchev

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev flew back to Moscow today after a nine-day visit to Communist Czechoslovakia highlighted by a blistering attack on his Communist Chinese adversaries.

In a farewell speech at Prague Airport, Khrushchev said his talks with Czechoslovak president and party chief, Antonin Novotny, one of his staunchest supporters in the feud with Peking, confirmed "absolute agreement and complete unity," the official Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported.

"There exist cordial relations between our countries and nations, between our parties and governments..." Khrushchev declared.

"Together with you, we are proud of the victories achieved by the people of Czechoslovakia in building up its new life. We are sincerely happy to see your country getting stronger and more beautiful every day. We were glad to listen to great, creative plans in our talks with your leading representatives, spokesmen of your industry and agriculture."

Thousands of Czechoslovaks cheered him and his motorcade to the airport was showered with flowers, CTK said.

A joint communique will be published later today. In a speech here Friday night, he repeatedly referred to the Chinese as "wreckers" and accused them of "playing into the hands of the imperialist forces."

"It is well known," he thundered, "that the leaders of the Chinese Communist party

Humphrey Back In Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey returns to the city he once served as mayor to open his campaign tonight for the nation's second highest elective office.

The Democratic vice presidential nominee will speak at the University of Minnesota, where he was graduated in 1939 after 10 years of Depression-interrupted studies.

It will be the senator's first visit to his home state since last month's Democratic National Convention, where he became the first Minnesota to win a place on a major national political ticket.

After flying from Washington to Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport, Humphrey was to motorcade to St. Paul for a news conference. Then he was to go to Minneapolis.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag proclaimed the day "Hubert Humphrey Day" and headed the airport welcoming contingent. Democratic leaders, worried by distractions of the Minnesota State Fair at St. Paul and the usual Labor Day weekend exodus from the Twin Cities, placed newspaper advertisements calculated to help fill the university auditorium.

New Ballot Campaign Issue For Democrats

LANSING (AP) — Unless Michigan Republicans drastically alter their strategy, the Massachusetts ballot campaign is going to be a one-way battle.

The issue, the only statewide proposition on the November ballot, may be a difficult one on which to rouse much public sentiment, but its outcome could affect state election results for years to come.

Democrats plan an all-out campaign to link the Massachusetts ballot with Republicans and defeat its adoption.

Republicans say the ballot question will not be a major campaign issue.

Ferency Differs

A Republican legislative majority passed the Massachusetts ballot act on a party-line vote this year. Democrats immediately launched a referendum petition campaign. It succeeded when the Board of State Canvassers, acting Thursday after a two-day partisan debate, approved a referendum on the ballot issue for the general election.

Gov. George Romney, commenting after Democrats had filed their miniature mountain of petitions, said it was all right with him for the people to decide the issue but added:

"It won't be a major campaign issue."

Whereupon Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency said: "If George Romney really believes that the Massachusetts ballot question is not already a major political issue, the Republican governor is whistling past his own political grave yard."

"The Massachusetts ballot is one of the three or four major issues of this campaign because George Romney made it a political issue... it was Romney who pushed to get the bill through... and it was the same Romney who signed the bill..."

Vote For Each Office

Romney indicated he did not plan to campaign for the Massachusetts ballot — he just wants the people to be informed about it, he said.

Republican State Chairman Arthur Elliott maintains: "If the Democrats plan on making this a big issue, it'll only be because they have no big issue."

"We're certainly not going to let it divert the attention of the people of Michigan from the tremendous progress made in Michigan. If the Democrats want to make that an issue it'll be a unilateral one."

What actually is at stake? In a general election Michigan voters now can vote for all candidates of one political party—the straight party ticket — by pulling one lever or making one "X". Or they can vote for some candidates of each party by casting separate votes for each office.

The Massachusetts ballot absolutely requires a separate vote to be cast for each office.

Biggest Bridge Job $8,392,125

LANSING (AP) — The Highway Department Friday announced the awarding of the largest single project in department history, for construction of the superstructure of a bridge to carry I 75 over the Rouge River near Detroit.

Joint low bidders on the project were Allied Structural Steel of Chicago and R. C. Mahon of Detroit, $8,392,125. It was the lowest of three bids.

The bridge will be 1.7 miles long and will carry eight traffic lanes plus refuge lanes. The department said more than 40 million pounds of steel will be needed to build the superstructure. The bridge will cost $28 million before it is opened to traffic in 1966.

The department said the largest previous single project was the $5.9 million award for the superstructure of the Houghton-Hancock lift bridge in the Upper Peninsula.

Cuban Trip Quiz Gets Nowhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities has completed two days of hearings that produced a spurt of violence, endless harangues and very little new information about student travel to Cuba.

The committee's work is not done. It still has to question a witness who was hospitalized after a follower of the American Nazi party had attacked him.

Boy, 11, Offers $20 To Purchase Old Whaleback

TORONTO (AP) — An 11-year-old Detroit boy has offered $20 to buy a retired freighter owned by Upper Lakes Shipping Ltd.

The company had announced that rather than sell the whaleback John Ericsson, last of her kind on the Great Lakes, it would give the vessel to anyone who would preserve her as a marine museum.

Tyree Weber submitted a written offer of $20, his birthday money. He said he would give the freighter to the Detroit Museum on Belle Isle.

"I could get a crew to Detroit," he wrote, "and I would get a thrill being on an old whaleback. I have an uncle who will handle the court and that law stuff."

J. D. Leitch, company president, thanked Tyree for his interest and said his offer would be considered.

despite the host of police and marshals in the big committee room.

The United States does not recognize Cuba and prohibits all but officially sanctioned travel to the Communist-governed island.

So far the committee has interrogated a participant, the leader and an organizer of the trip that 84 young people made to Cuba this summer, defying a ban by the State Department.

All three repeated the same things they had said many times before in news conferences in Havana, New York and elsewhere and continually refused to say much else.

When asked to discuss the intricacies of the trip's financing, their own personal finances, or the part other people played in the trip, each witness invoked the 5th Amendment to the Constitution which provides protection against possibly self-incriminating testimony.

According to the authorization issued Friday one company will be established every two months. The force is to be completed in one year.

The first company may go to Cyprus.

Key Experiments Fail To Work On Spacecraft OGO

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — OGO 1 swept away from earth on a perfect orbital path today, while space agency scientists tried to learn why two key experiments and the main radio antenna failed to work properly.

OGO's job is to measure potential hazards to man's space flight.

The malfunctions turned up as the 1,073-pound spacecraft passed over the Rosman, N.C., tracking station Friday night — less than three hours after blastoff.

Scientists promptly put the OGO (Orbital Geophysical Observatory) in a "hold" position, leaving it whirling through space until they believed the experiments could be tried again. Officials emphasized that none of OGO's 20 experiments had been turned on.

Earlier, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration reported that OGO, an oddly shaped metal monster with protruding antennae, jets and eyes, had whirled into a giant oval orbit — extending from 177 to 93,313 miles, close to its planned path.

A single trip around the earth will take OGO 63 hours.

OGO is the most advanced scientific satellite yet launched by the United States. Packed into its dragon fly-shaped frame are instruments for sophisticated experiments devised by scientists from seven government laboratories and nine universities.

Besides the radio antenna, the experiments that failed to work were a magnetometer experiment on a 22-foot boom and an ion — electron measurement experiment on a 4-foot boom.

By tinkering by radio with OGO as it rockets through space, scientists hope to bring the experiments to life.

Malaysia Near Open Warfare

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — New race rioting flared in Singapore today as Malaysia and Indonesia moved closer to open war.

The rioting, blamed by some Malaysian officials on Indonesian agents, has left nine dead.

The king of Malaysia signed a decree today which proclaimed the entire country a national "security area."

The decree permits local authorities to impose curfews and ban unlawful assembly and gives police sweeping powers.

In Indonesia, President Sukarno, who has vowed to "crush" Malaysia, held another emergency meeting with his top advisers. The official Indonesian news agency Antara said he will make an important announcement soon about the "present critical situation."

A special meeting of the U.N. Security Council will be held in New York next Wednesday to consider Malaysia's charges that Indonesia is committing aggression against the federation. Malaysia has accused Indonesia of backing recent smallscale invasion attempts.

Home Town Has Bill Miller Day

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP) — It was "Bill Miller Day" today in the hometown of the No. 2 man in the Republican national ticket and he promised Republicans it marked "the beginning of the most vigorous vice presidential campaign in history."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, headed the list of Republicans invited to help Rep. William E. Miller launch his campaign formally.

In a statement issued Friday on the eve of his return for a giant kickoff rally, Miller said, "I am proud to be opening my campaign for the vice presidency in my hometown, Lockport, N.Y., because this city, steeped in tradition and principle, so well symbolizes the values for which Barry Goldwater and I are campaigning."

It was Miller's big day and he was main speaker for the rally, with Goldwater listed for brief remarks.

The roles of the principals were reversed from Thursday, when Goldwater launched his campaign at Prescott, Ariz., with a major address, while Miller spoke briefly.

Miller, 50, was born here, went through high school in Lockport and returned to practice law after leaving for college, law school and military service. He entered politics here as an assistant district attorney in 1946.

The only child of a janitor and a dress-shop owner, Miller grew up in a small house about a mile from the setting for today's rally, the Niagara County Fairgrounds.

Use Of Cherries Pushed To Help Glutted Market

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has instructed State Controller Glen S. Allen Jr. to help alleviate the red cherry marketing situation by such methods as encouraging state food service units to serve more of the fruit.

Romney said Friday a harvest about 20 per cent above previous records has produced "a price-marketing crisis."

He told Allen to "please proceed immediately to take whatever action you find possible to achieve this objective through the appropriate state agencies and their established programs."

Pro-Western Candidate For President Wins

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Pro-Western Eduardo Frei, a moderate leftist, rode to a landslide victory Friday night in Chile's presidential election. His success set back a serious Communist threat to the copper-rich Latin American republic.

Frei, 53, a reform-minded Christian Democrat, trounced Communist-backed Socialist Salvador Allende, who had pledged to nationalize nearly $2 billion worth of U.S. property in Chile and restore diplomatic relations with Cuba.

"We have obtained a truly immense victory. I receive this mandate of the people with humility," Frei told cheering thousands.

"Revolution! Revolution!" enraged followers of Allende shouted. They charged that President Johnson and Pope Paul VI had contributed money to defeat Allende, a plump 56-year-old physician who has lost three times in a bid for the presidency.

Allende's opponents said Moscow and Havana had smuggled money into the country for his campaign.

Frei followers celebrated into the night, singing and dancing in the streets. Frei, a senator, will take the government reins Nov. 4 for a six-year term. He succeeds Jorge Alessandri, barred by the constitution from seeking re-election.

WASHINGTON RELIEVED

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials greeted with relief and delight today the landslide victory of Sen. Eduardo Frei in Chile's presidential election.

They had feared that a comparable win by Frei's chief rival, Communist-backed Salvador Allende, could have led to a bigger setback to democracy and gain for communism in this hemisphere than the Red takeover of Cuba.

Frei is leftist by U.S. standards. But he has avowed a pro-West pro-U.S. foreign policy and a domestic reform program that relies on democratic methods.

Allende, an avowed Marxist, campaigned on an anti-U.S. pro-Castro Communist foreign policy. At home, he wanted to socialize the economy, including seizure of the big U.S. copper firms there.

Frei's triumph apparently assures that Chile will continue to be a prominent member of the inter-American system and a supporter of the Alliance for Progress program of social and economic reforms with U.S. aid. The candidate supports both policies.

The United States is assisting Chile at the rate of $150 million a year.

Night Rider Pair Acquitted

DANIELSVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Two white men have been acquitted in the night-rider slaying of Washington, D.C., Negro educator Lemuel Penn. However, they still face federal conspiracy charges under the new civil rights law.

Joseph Howard Sims, 41, and Cecil William Myers, 25, heard the verdict Friday night after a jury of white men deliberated slightly more than three hours.

A gasp and murmur arose from relatives and friends. Superior Court Judge Cary Skelton rapped for order. Relatives of the two men wept. Sims and Myers hugged their wives. They were surrounded by well-wishers.

Sims and Myers, whom the FBI identified as Ku Klux Klansmen, still face federal charges of conspiring to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate Penn and two companions.

Penn was killed July 11 by a shotgun blast fired from a passing car. Penn, an Army Reserve lieutenant colonel, and two other Negro officers were en route home to Washington from reserve duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.

The state contended the killing was a senseless deed.

Seven Confess In Fatal Prank

DETROIT (AP) — Seven Western Wayne County youths have admitted breaking the lock on a dam floodgate minutes before drowning of a fisherman, police in suburban Romulus Township said Friday.

Police said the seven have been released to their parents while the prosecutor's office considers what action to take.

The fisherman, LaVerne Badger, 47, of Romulus Township, was swept away and drowned Wednesday night when a wall of water from Belleville Lake swept through the opened floodgate and down the Huron River.

Badger's son, Edward, 16, and nephew, Jack Giraud, 16, who were fishing with him, saved themselves from the torrent by clinging to a fence. Police said three of the youths are juveniles, and the others are 17 or older.

Cyprus Crisis On Brink Of War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Acheson will tell President Johnson next week that while the Cyprus crisis can be permanently settled in time, as matters stand now war could break out at almost any moment.

The former secretary of state will see the President Tuesday, the principal question he will discuss with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other policymakers.

At the same time, he said publicly what officials here have been saying privately for weeks — that the policy of Archbishop Makarios, the president of Cyprus, created serious difficulty for Acheson's mediation efforts.

"The archbishop didn't go out of his way to be helpful," Acheson said. "He threw monkey wrenches into the machinery."

Acheson, secretary of state in the Truman administration, drew a sharp distinction between the immediate situation on the island, where Greek and Turkish Cypriot forces are arrayed against each other, and the longer range prospect for a permanent settlement giving the Mediterranean island some new status in relation to Greece and Turkey.

On Cyprus, Acheson said, the situation is so critical that "war would break out in 25 minutes." But he said he is confident "if we get a period of peace and tranquility" the Cyprus crisis can be solved.

The question of what to do next for a settlement is the principal question he will discuss with Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other policymakers.

DETROIT (AP) — The Automobile Club of Michigan Thursday predicted some 1.5 million cars will roll along state highways during the 72-hour Labor Day weekend.

The figure, revised upward because of expected warmer weather, represents nearly half of the passenger cars registered in Michigan, the auto club said.

Touring Manager Jerry Fisher said peak traffic periods will be between 5 and 8 p.m. Friday and from dusk and 10 p.m. on Monday.

He urged motorists not to exceed 400 miles of driving per day. "Trying to go beyond this distance in a day places the motorist in the dangerous 'over-drive' category," he said.

Fisher suggested that drivers try earlier starts and alternate routes to avoid heavy traffic congestion during rush periods.

South Viet Nam Envoy Returning

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor is expected to return next week from South Viet Nam for consultation with President Johnson.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and others.

The ambassador had planned to come home last week to attend to some personal affairs, but his return was put off by political upheavals in South Viet Nam.

Services will be at 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

At the morning service the prelude will be played by Mrs. Pearl St. Clair and the choir will be directed by Sam Ham.

Greeting will come from former pastors of the Immanuel Lutheran Church, and two will be present for the dedication service. They are the Rev. Lawrence Sateren, pastor here 1920-26, and Pastor John DeBoer who was here 1956-59. A special greeting will be read from Pastor Johannes Ringstad, 1950-56.

Dedication Sermon

The morning sermon will be given by Pastor Gordon Thorpe. The dedication sermon in the afternoon will be by the Rev. Theodore Ohlrogge, D. D., president of the Northern Wisconsin District of the American Lutheran Church. He has served as president since 1960 of the district of which the Immanuel Church is a member.

Prior to the dedication sermon, greetings and recognitions will be given by Escanaba Mayor George Rusch and members of the local clergy.

Following the dedication service coffee will be served for those in attendance and the building will be open for inspection by those who are interested in seeing the new facility.

First Church In 1891

The dedication is culmination of a building program designed to better serve the future of the congregation.

Organized as the Norwegian Lutheran Church in 1888, the first church building was constructed on 1st Ave. S. and 15th St. in 1891. The parsonage was built in 1903. There were remodeling and expansion projects in 1912 and 1922.

The first building fund canvass was held in 1961 and was a success. The 12-acre site was acquired in 1960. The congregation voted to have the building committee sign contracts for the construction of a new church and Sunday School building at a cost of $156,601. Ground breaking ceremonies were held on June 16, construction was begun June 17, 1963, and the building was completed in April this year. First services were held there on April 26. Many of the furnishings of the church are memorials or special gifts.

State Studies Tree Damage

The Conservation Department is investigating damage to trees in parts of Porcupine Mountains State Park. Chemical poisoning by fumes from the smelter stack of the nearby White Pine copper mine is suspected but not confirmed.

Paul R. Flink, Conservation Department entomologist, said an aerial survey revealed "noticeable damage" to more than 200 acres of trees in the 47,000-acre Upper Peninsula wilderness park. Birch trees were most severely affected, with lesser injury to oaks and maples.

Flink said leaves on the afflicted trees turned brown, showing symptoms typical of chemical poisoning rather than insect or fungus attack. He believes most of the trees will recover.

Officials of the White Pine Copper Mining Co., whose ore smelter is located a few miles southeast of the park, have been notified of the incident by Glenn C. Gregg, Department regional manager for the Upper Peninsula.

Gregg said this is the first such occurrence in the nine years the smelter has operated. He suggested that some special combination of weather factors may have resulted in abnormal concentrations of sulphur dioxide fumes over the park.

Mine officials promised to make an investigation of their own and take corrective measures if the smelter fumes are proved to be the cause, Gregg reported.

Tip At Holland Nabs Escapers

HOLLAND (AP)—Two Southern Michigan Prison farm escapees were apprehended here Thursday by Holland City Police and Ottawa County sheriff's men in a joint operation touched off by a tip.

Taken to the county jail in Grand Haven after their capture were Kenneth Arends, 24, of Holland and Richard Keenan, 25, of Chicago.

Authorities said the two walked away from the prison farm early Thursday and stole a car near Jackson. Police later were informed that Arends was spotted in the Holland area and roadblocks were put up.

Officers said the pair in the stolen car ran one roadblock but were overtaken and stopped. Keenan was taken into custody immediately but Arends fled on foot, to be captured later at the home of a relative. Arends had been sentenced from Ottawa County for breaking and entering and carrying a concealed weapon. Keenan was serving a term for breaking and entering when the two fled the prison farm.

Surfers find good sport in the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Peru and the Philippines.

Fair Queen To Start Walkers

ST. IGNACE—All is ready at the Mackinac Bridge for the up-to-3,000 walkers who may cross the structure Labor Day forenoon. Six thousand people enjoyed the stroll last year, an annual event which is now in its seventh year.

Although auto traffic will flow as usual on two of the four bridge lanes, most of the 50-plus bridge employees will be involved in handling the walking events and related traffic.

Fourteen extra buses have been recruited to carry walkers to the starting line at the north end of the bridge. Most are school buses from nearby communities.

Fifteen National Guardsmen volunteers from the Sault Ste. Marie and Cheboygan posts will assist bridge patrolmen in ensuring the safety and enjoyment of the walkers. Several Coastguardsmen from Cheboygan will perform similar services. Later they will be entertained at a luncheon in St. Ignace sponsored by the American Legion, the Chamber of Commerce, and Lions and Kiwanis Clubs.

Restaurants, filling stations and motels in Mackinaw City and St. Ignace are preparing to serve the thousands of visitors. Extra restrooms and refreshment stands will be available.

Mackinaw City merchants and the Chamber of Commerce are offering $1,000 in prizes to walkers, keyed to numbers on the certificates strollers will be given after the 4½ mile trip. As an added inducement to come early, the first 1,000 walkers to start the stroll will be given numbers for extra chances at the 100 prizes.

Walkers may start at the north end of the bridge at any time between 8:30 a. m. and 10 a. m. Labor Day. Those who start early will have the most fun, officials say, because of less congestion and more time to complete the walk. The bridge must be cleared of walkers by noon.

Early arrivals will also see some of the nation's best speed walkers in action, prior to the general stroll. Across-bridge races sanctioned by the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union will start from the north end of the bridge at 7:30 a. m. and the starting gun for novice races sponsored by the International Walkers Association will be at 8:10 a. m.

Gerri Ann Dewane, queen of the 1964 Upper Peninsula State Fair, will assist in start-

Bear hunting licenses are available at only a few license dealers and at certain Conservation Department field offices.

The limited demand for these new licenses prompted the limited distribution this year. Hunters can buy the licenses at any of the Department's 12 district offices including Marquette and the Cusino wildlife station.

Also, license dealers Top O' Lakes Sporting Goods at Marquette, Harry's Sporting Goods at St. Ignace, and Todd's Friendly Service at Brimley carry the licenses.

Pastor's Little Daughter Found Strangled In Box

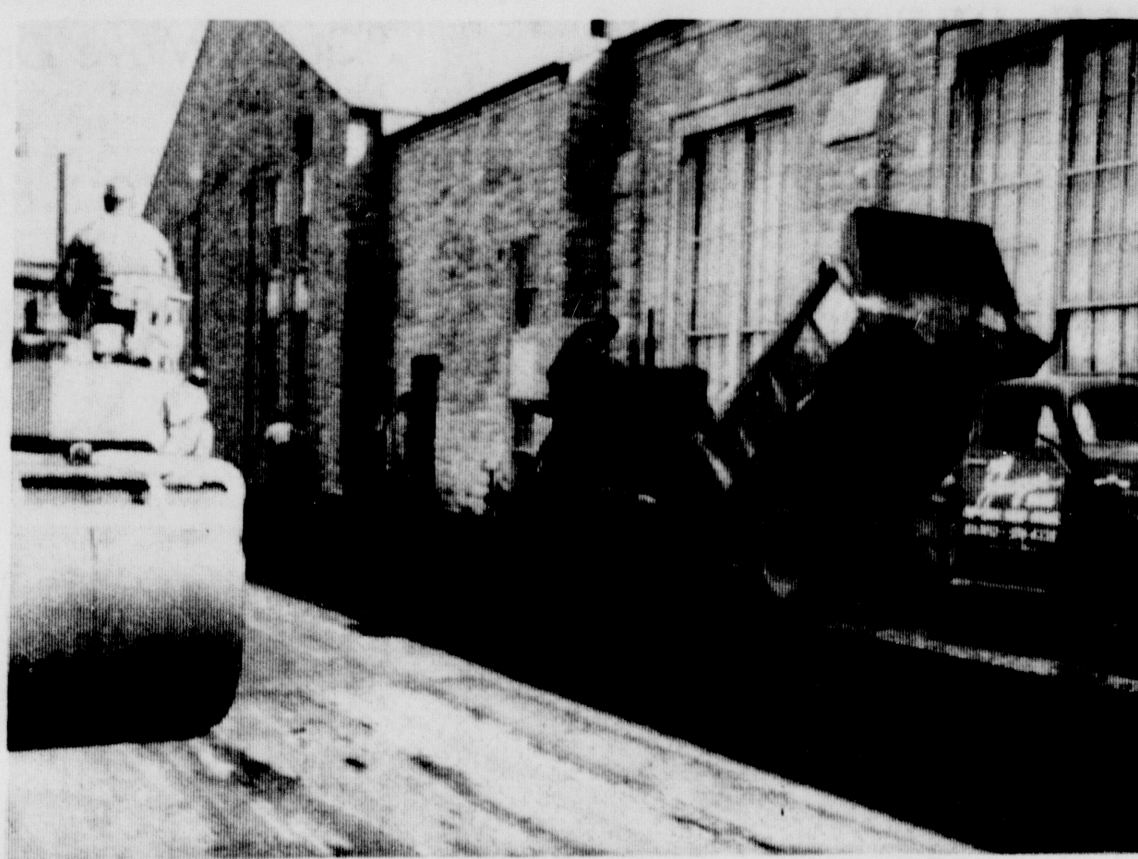

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A neighbor found the choked body of Margaret Ruth Battle, 6, in a box near her home Friday night. Police said a teenager admitted killing her during a sex attack.

Homicide Lt. Merle Wells said Reginald D. Spiller, 15, told of taking the girl to his home to "see my pictures," clipped from what the officer described as girlie magazines.

Wells said the youth first denied, then admitted trying to molest her sexually. Spiller told of throttling her with his hands and then knotting two lengths of electrical cord about the child's neck, the officer said.

Margaret Ruth was the daughter of an Episcopal minister, the Rev. John Battle. She and her parents moved here in June from Fort Scott, Kan.

Labor Problem

The nation observes Labor Day this year with the shadow of automation clouding the security of the working man.

What is to happen as mechanized equipment increasingly competes with man?

Even though the problem is undeniably real, there would seem to be no great cause for panic.

This isn't the first Labor Day that has found the workers of America wondering just what was in store for them.

There have been violent and deep-rooted labor disputes, long and tragic depressions, ups and downs in the production lines, new and startling innovations in work procedures that for a time threatened to disrupt the security of workers.

One by one, these problems have been met and the economy of the country has been steadily advanced in number of workers, working conditions, gross national product and other barometers of prosperity.

Business as well as labor is fully aware of the problems presented by the advance of automation. The best minds in both those groups and others are giving top priority to the challenge of adjusting to the changing conditions with a minimum of displacement and economic upheaval.

In a country where employe and employer can do work together, plan together and reason together for the benefit of all concerned, solutions to the problems of 1964 can be expected just as confidently as solutions to the problems of the past.

The problem of automation will be solved. Automation is progress. Progress cannot and should not be delayed or resisted. It must, however, be adapted to the common good. Education, retraining and adjustment of productivity are three of the basic answers to the problem.

On Labor Day 1964 the nation again salutes the working man and thanks him for what he is doing 365 days a year to make this country a stronghold of freedom and a reservoir of hope for a troubled world.

The Election Snafu

Michigan's redistricting had its first test in the Sept. 1 primary and the result was a lulu. It took a couple days to find out who some of the nominees were.

Michigan has observed county lines in its previous districting. This is as natural as passing out four fingers and a thumb for a hand when assembling humans and the Legislature could violate the practice in out-state Michigan only at the cost of considerable confusion, but it did it anyway.

The excuse was the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule in legislative apportionment. It is impossible to carry this principle to exactitude, but the effort to carry it as near exactitude as possible carried it beyond the limit of nuttiness. Some sensible tolerances to allow for geographical difficulties were needed, but none were allowed.

The Upper Peninsula was cut, not from three state senators to two, but to one and a half. It is now 200 miles from one end of the district to another and interests of the two halves are in the different worlds of the Upper Peninsula and the Lower Peninsula and never the twain shall meet.

The Upper Peninsula, running two candidates in both the Republican and Democratic races for 37th District state senator, lost the nomination in both races by dividing its vote power, although there is less population (but more voters) in the Lower Peninsula part of the district.

The U.P., feeling very forlorn after the redistricting which cut its representation in Lansing so drastically, feels even worse after the primary, since it will be down to one resident state senator out of the 38 after the Nov. 3 election. The U.P. is a geographical third of Michigan but the one-man, one-vote districting has done this to it.

Kenneth Crawford writes in the current Newsweek Magazine that "the most conspicuous of the Democratic platform's politically artful omissions concerns the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision, which is now under attack by Congress."

"The Republican platform calls for a constitutional amendment depriving the Court of jurisdiction over this issue. Senator Joseph Clark and other representatives of big urban states wanted to endorse the decision. But the White House (President Johnson) talked them out of it with a promise to help stop pending reapportionment-busting legislation."

"So the Democrats, as a party, remain silent on one of the most urgent reforms of these times. Mr. Johnson apparently feared that a forthright stand would cost him rural votes."

Spoken like a city feller, Mr. Crawford. It makes wonderful good sense until you're a voter in a rural situation like the Upper Peninsula.

Fatal Strokes Show Increase

CHICAGO (AP) — A striking corded during heat waves in upsurge in the number of deaths along the eastern seaboard and in Kansas City, Chicago and Detroit.

Persons 65 and older, representing less than 10 per cent of the general population, accounted for 38 per cent of the excess deaths.

Writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, they gave this account:

An analysis of the Detroit figures showed a greater proportion of the excess deaths occurred among the elderly who had been under reasonably long medical care.

But when deaths from strokes were tabulated for the summers of 1953 and 1955, it was found the ratio was lower than in recent years. Although July 1955 was very hot with 18 days above 90-plus temperatures, the ratio was a normal 10 per cent. In August it was 1 per cent lower.

The reason, the authors concluded, probably concerned "elucidations of medical diagnosis, therapy, and reporting which can strongly influence vital statistics."

Washington Comment

Tooth Tartar Cause Found

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Miscellaneous notes from the Democratic convention in Atlantic City:

In a convention which lacked even the most rudimentary elements of suspense, delegates spent a good deal of time swapping complaints.

Major topic was hotel accommodations. Stories of outmoded bathrooms, decrepit furniture, high prices, a lack of room service and no air conditioning were plentiful.

Particularly displeased was the massive 296-member California delegation, most of whom were quartered at the ancient Ambassador Hotel. Two members started a special newsletter to keep the rest of the delegation informed of the latest "victims claimed by the hotel."

The Californians blamed their predicament on the Texas delegation, which drew the excellent Haddon Hall hotel.

"Those Texans cooked up some kind of a deal to stick us in a lousy hotel," explained one member. "They claimed we did them dirt in the 1960 convention in Los Angeles."

"We're going straight home and start arrangements to land the 1968 convention for California. We've got to do something to get even with Texas."

In a ballroom used for major meetings, newsmen at green baize tables were quietly studying part of the Democratic platform. The silence was broken only by the rustling of turning pages.

Suddenly, from a side entrance, came the sound of shuffling feet and babbling voices. Former Pennsylvania Gov. David Lawrence, surrounded by a posse of state troopers and followed by 25 or 30 reporters and photographers, swept through the room at a fast pace.

Blue curtains held up by metal stanchions toppled over and disappeared beneath trampling feet. A television camera swung around to catch the urgent scene.

When it was all over a startled reporter in the room asked: "What was that?"

BARBS

The things some people do indicate that they should let somebody else do their thinking.

Come winter with its naked hills, nude trees and bare limbs, no wonder the corn will be shocked.

RURAL CLOCK WATCHING

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Workers on the Lynwood Farm of Danville banker M. C. Minn have no excuse for not being on time.

A huge clock, with four faces was placed atop a barn tower at the farm more than 50 years ago.

The clock, which can be seen and heard a considerable distance, is electrically operated and lighted at night.

It was merely Gov. Lawrence, head of the Credentials Committee, on his way to the telephone.

Also a prime topic of conversation was the dedicated band of 200 New Jersey state troopers sent to Atlantic City to guard all approaches to Convention Hall.

In their zeal to keep the spectators within the prescribed limits set by the fire marshal, the troopers barred several dignitaries from the hall on Monday's opening night.

The troopers' "bag" of dignitaries increased Tuesday night, including Rhode Island Sen. John Pastore, Monday's keynote.

With President Johnson due Wednesday night, the troopers took no chances. After the start of the session about 8 p. m., no one was admitted, whatever his credentials.

One of the few exceptions was a young man who shoved his way up to one blue-shirted trooper, pushed an identification card into his face and shouted: "Read it, buddy! Secret Service!"

A clue to the eventual choice of Hubert Humphrey as vice presidential nominee was noted by newsmen early in the convention — at the Credentials Committee hearings of the Mississippi delegation dispute.

Committee Chairman David Lawrence acknowledged that Humphrey played a key role in the final compromise resolution. Reporters were well aware of this role.

"When things were going good, it was always called the 'Humphrey compromise,'" noted one newsmen. "But when events took a turn for the worse, it became the 'David Lawrence compromise.'"

CHICAGO (AP) — Chemists have reported finding the chemical substance that causes "tartar," the hard, irritating deposits that form on teeth.

This may open the way to means of preventing tartar and the destructive gum and mouth troubles it can inspire, said Dr. Albert Sobel of Beth Israel Hospital, New York City.

He and associates found an organic ingredient, in saliva, which seems to be the guilty agent, Dr. Sobel told American Chemical Society.

This material is apparently deposited as a thin film on the teeth, then is calcified or hardened by calcium and phosphate in the saliva, he said.

Tartar can penetrate and irritate the gums, causing loss of bone structures that support the teeth. Gum or periodontal diseases are the major cause for loss of teeth after age 40. Before that, tooth decay is the main destroyer.

The chemists found that calcification of the tartar agent could be prevented by tiny amounts of beryllium chloride. But this chemical is too poisonous to be used as a preventive in human mouths.

"Perhaps ways and means will be found for preventing the formation of the calcifying principle in the saliva," Dr. Sobel said. "However, before we undertake anything as rash as interfering with production of this principle, we must know more about why it is present."

Perhaps normal amounts (of tartar) are nature's repair mechanism on the surface of the teeth, which are continually worn away and dissolved in trace amounts."

Finding The Way

Keeping On The Beam

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

From time to time it has been my privilege to fly in military aircraft while en route to speaking engagements for the Air Force. I've stood in the cockpit, watching a pilot "lock the plane in," setting it on an automatic device. The beam from the outside became the guide for the plane. It became standard for the trip. But what happens if someone tampers with the standard, or deflects the beam?

A few years ago a three-panel cartoon showed a person scowling while looking at the marker on the scales. So this person got off, adjusted the lever and then smiled as the lever registered 10 pounds lighter. That's an easy way to lose weight. But what happens to our standards of weights and measures when we tamper with the lever?

This is why we have to be concerned in these days of permissive morality.

The noteworthy Bishop of Woolwich wrote recently, "My concern is that Christians, in love as in war, should have the terrible freedom with which God has endowed us, and should exercise it responsibly. They must decide for themselves, though this certainly does not mean that they must decide on their own."

This is what the "hate groups" in our country seem to miss. They proclaim a concern for our nation. They are for patriotism which they interpret as nationalism. They're for pride of heritage which they interpret as some ethnic superiority. We all have to make decisions in these matters, but these decisions have to be in terms of the wholes and not in fragments, in terms of eternal values and not in terms of passing fancies.

It is the faith of the Christian that he is a free person, but he is not here on his own. His values have to be larger than just to win. He knows that he can tune in to that beam. He knows that he can understand the weights and measures. So patriotism is not nationalism. Loving one's country does not mean that one has to hate one's neighbor. Pride of heritage is not idolatry of ancestry. Loving one's grandparents does not mean that one has to ignore another person's ancestry.

We have been accustomed to thinking that we could lock our plane in and somehow muddle through. This self-infatuation can only result in a kind of tampering with the beam. We may think that we can win votes by adjusting the scales. That's been tried before and it has worked—temporarily. Hitler got away with it. Mussolini got away with it. Others will try.

In the end there is the terrible freedom to decide for ourselves, but not on our own. So St. Paul counseled, "Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to that which is good; love one another with brotherly love; outdo one another in showing honor." That's keeping on the beam. That's weighing on the proper scales.

She Won't Ride In Dump Truck

By J. R. LOWELL
Ten Years Ago

A Bark River man, employed in an Escanaba factory, went to work as usual, but before going to his work he stopped at a barber shop, leaving his lunch pail in his car. When he returned the lunch pail was gone and worse than that—his teeth, wrapped in waxed paper were also gone. Police eventually found the culprits, who returned the pail and the teeth; but the lunch "was all et up."

Mrs. David E. (Mary) Brackett, of Escanaba, was visiting in Tousette, R. I., when the recent hurricane which raised such havoc in that area struck the city. She was unharmed and the home of her friend was not damaged, but she was saddened by the sight of all the beautiful yachts in the harbor now tangled wreckage.

The Hoyer Bakery, one of the oldest business firms in the city, has been on strike since July 1st with no sign of agreement in sight.

Twenty Years Ago

Richard A. Reinke, manager of the Railway Express office in Eau Claire, Wis., for the past five years, arrived in Escanaba today to assume charge of the express office here.

Joseph Deloria Sr., 89, postmaster at Garden for many years, died last night following a heart attack.

Roy Farrell, Escanaba hotel man, is leaving the business and has purchased "The Chocolate Shop" at Ishpeming and will assume active charge of the enterprise.

Thirty Years Ago

One of the largest northern pike landed in Upper Michigan this year is the catch of a Calumet man, Harry Hosking. This fish weighed 33 pounds, was 45 inches long and 20 inches about the middle. The fisherman used a spinner, a light line and a bamboo pole.

Marvin Coon of Escanaba has been endorsed as the Democratic candidate for state auditor general.

Mrs. Ed Lucas will represent the R. C. Hatheway Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at this year's annual Grand Chapter session of the order at Grand Rapids.

Believe me, Ann, I've learned my lesson. I realize how lucky I was not to have gotten into serious trouble. I will never be so foolish again. I also know the boy didn't care about me or he would not have been so thoughtless about my future.

Please help me. If I am penned up for three months I'll lose my mind. — THE GHOST

Dear Ghost: Keeping a teenager locked up for three months only makes him or her resentful and determined to get even when he is sprung.

Teen-agers who are made to feel they are no good and not to be trusted, will behave in a sneaky, unworthy manner. I favor parole rather than solitary confinement — with the following rules:

(1) You should be permitted LIMITED outside activities.

(2) Your parents should know where you are, and with whom, at all times.

(3) You should honor a strict curfew.

P. S.: I've gone to bat for you. Now don't let me down.

Dear Ann Landers: My mother is a widow in her early sixties. She decided recently to make her home with me. I am a widow, too, and have no income except my weekly salary. For years I've longed to take a nice vacation but could never afford it.

Mother has a small pension and a modest income from social security. She buys groceries occasionally, but has never offered to help defray household expenses.

My evenings are spent chauffeuring mother and my car expenses have tripled. But how can I tell her to take a bus when my car is out in front of the house?

This new living arrangement is keeping me broke. How shall I tell her? — DOROTHY

Dear Dorothy: In plain English, unless she understands another language better.

It would be different if your mother had no income but since she has money coming in, she should offer half of her income and carry her share of the load.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the boobytraps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope.

Friend Of Tabby Rescued In Tree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The meows of a cat stranded two days atop a three story building was too much for one sympathetic man.

Up he went to the rescue, using the same route the cat took — a tall tree next to the building. But then a fire department rescue crew had to be called Thursday to lower man and cat.

The embarrassed man declined to give his name.

The cat's name is Tabby.

Miss Kozlowski Bride Of John R. DeRouin

Carol Ann Kozlowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kozlowski, Bark River, Rte. 2, became the bride of John Robert DeRouin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex DeRouin, also of Bark River, Rte. 2, in a 10 a.m. ceremony today, Sept. 5, at Sacred Heart Church, Schaffer.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Noel Arnett, who was celebrant of the Nuptial High Mass. Altar vases holding arrangements of gladiolus and pompons with gold candelabra, formed the setting for the ceremony.

Mrs. Robert Savage, soloist, sang the music of the Mass and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," as the bride presented a bouquet of white mums and carnations to the Blessed Mother. Mrs. Daniel LaPalm was the organist.

The bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage.

She was attired in a gown fashioned of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, styled with long tapered sleeves and a basque bodice with scalloped neckline. The full, floor-length skirt separated in back to show a bow and tiers of ruffled silk organza. She wore a crystal necklace and matching earrings, gift of the bridegroom. Her bouffant two-tiered veil of English illusion was secured to three satin roses trimmed with delicate lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses with white mums, carnations and trailing ivy.

Bride's Attendants

Maid of honor was Mrs. John Hudson and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth DeRouin, of Rockford, Ill., Joanne Demarse, Joanne Savage of Chicago and Barbara DeRouin, sister of the bridegroom. They were attired in identical gowns of mint green, featuring flowing floor-length skirts of nylon over taffeta and fitted lace bodices with matching jackets, round necklines and short sleeves. Long white gloves and white shoes were their accessories. Their headpieces were a matching mint green nylon-rose and veil. They wore crystal pendant necklaces, gift of the bride and carried cascading bouquets of white carnations with mint green ribbons.

Serving as Mr. DeRouin's best man was John Hudson and groomsmen were Kenneth DeRouin, of Rockford, Gary DeRouin, Dale DeRouin, brothers of the bridegroom, and Gerry Pirlot. Completing the bridal party were the ushers Albert Derouin and Donald Kozlowski, uncles of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception Mrs. Kozlowski chose a gold brocade sheath with matching coat, complemented by brown accessories. Her corsage was white garnette roses and carnations. A blue sheath dress with matching jacket, beige accessories and a blue and white carnation corsage formed Mrs. DeRouin's ensemble. The bride presented her grandmother with a corsage of pink rosebuds and pink and white carnations.

Breakfast and Reception

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Potvin's Fireside Room.

Green and white, color theme of the wedding, is being used in decorations for the reception from 4 to 9 p.m., also in the Fireside Room. Bonnie Pilon, cousin of the bride, will serve the four-tiered wedding cake. Julie Butryn and Camille Chase will preside at the coffee service. Linda Lantagne and Jane Seymour will be in charge of gifts and Wanda DeRouin, a niece of the bridegroom, will preside over the guest book. A dance will follow the reception, at Riverland Ball Room.

The newlyweds will make their home in Rockford, Ill. Both are graduates of Bark River-Harris High School.

Out-of-town guests attended from Rockford, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Houghton, points in Ohio, Wisconsin and New York, and neighboring communities.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Father Jordan Telles, O.F.M., pastor. Soloist was Mrs. Charles Snyder, who sang "Panis Angelicus" before the ceremony and "Ave Maria" by Schubert, as the bride placed a bouquet on the altar of the Blessed Virgin. Miss Alice Cossett, organist, played "Prelude" by Alex Gilmant as the processional and Ralph Kindler's recessional.

White gladiolus and mums with fiesta ribbon were in the gold altar vases with side candelabra and arrangements of the altar flowers and ribbon.

Bridal Aides

The bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, was preceded down the white carpeted aisle by her sister, Carolyn Marie, maid of honor, and four bridesmaids, another sister, Irene Kay, and college friends, Anne Catherine Huntzicker and Phyllis Kay Mitchell of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Annette Dudgeon of Tuscaloosa, Ala.

The bride's floor length gown of Alencon lace was styled with a molded bodice, beaded bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt featured a scalloped beaded hem and tiered back. Her shoulder length veil of English silk illusion was attached to a rose flowered and pearl forehead tiara. She carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations and pompons with ivy in cascade effect.

Short sheath dresses of fiesta delustered satin with embroidered bodice, bracelet sleeves and scoop neckline were worn by her attendants. The long overskirts were detailed with a bow and streamers in back. They wore matching flower forehead tiaras with bouffant veiling and they carried cascading arrangements of Fuji mums with deep garnette roses.

The newlyweds will make their home on campus at East Lansing when they return from a honeymoon tour of the Georgian Bay area of Canada, New York and Niagara Falls.

The bride is a 1964 honor graduate of the University of Michigan with a B.A. in Spanish. Schwendeman

In loving memory, a tribute of love dedicated to our beloved wife, mother and sister, Mrs. Freda Schwendeman, who passed away two years ago today, Sept. 5, 1962.

A door swings briefly open,
And a loved one slips away,
Slips from life's dark shadows
Into bright, eternal day.
Where earthly griefs are over,
Where pain shall be no more,
To peace, past understanding,
God has opened wide the door.
"Getting used to being lonesome,
That's what we have learned to do
And it's might hard to do it,
Since we were used to having you,
Getting used to having heartaches,
Getting used to being lonesome,
That's what we have learned to do."
Time may heal the broken-hearted,
Years may make the wound less sore,
But it cannot fill the longing
For the loved one gone before,
Who shall say the grief is lessened
Though the smile may hide the tears,
Memories keep the wound still open
Despite the passing of the years.
Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by her husband,

Schools Start Work Tuesday

Gladstone Public Schools will open their doors Tuesday for the 1964-65 school year with an expected enrollment of 666 in the grades 7 through 12. This figure tops last year's enrollment by 22 however the grade school enrollment may be slightly lower than last year.

According to Supt. Wallace Cameron, the enrollment in the elementary grades is unpredictable as the kindergarten enrollment is so irregular from year to year. However he says the trend is slightly lower.

Pre-school registrations show there will be 80 students in the 7th grade, 88 in the 8th, 135 in the 9th, 122 in the 10th, 125 in the 11th and 116 in the 12th grade.

Changes have been made in the kindergarten registration periods due to teachers meetings. Kindergarteners will register at the James T. Jones School all day Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 9 and 10 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Children enrolling at the Buckeye for kindergarten will register at that school on the afternoons of Sept. 9 and 10. Parents of all kindergarten students are reminded that they must bring their report of a physical examination for the enrolling child as required by a new Michigan law.

Rental fees remain the same as last year. Junior and Senior High School students will pay $1.50 per semester. Grades 1 through 6 will pay $1 and kindergarteners, 50 cents. All paper manuals and spelling and arithmetic pads are in addition to the book rental fee.

Hot lunches will be served beginning on Wednesday and the fee will be the same as last year, $1.25 per week or 30 cents for individual meals. People living farther than eight blocks from school are eligible to participate. Special arrangements can be made for children of working mothers.

Lumber History, Rustic Harbor Interest Visitors

Visitors to Manistique Yacht Harbor this week included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schulz and son, Richard Jr. of Chicago. The family is enroute home after a 2½-week trip to North Channel aboard their 57-foot cruiser, Hummell Hummell.

The rustic appearance of the Manistique Yacht Harbor, built by the Yacht Club with volunteer workers, and the history of the slips, where early-day lumber schooners could be loaded without lifting, were particularly interesting to them. Schulz notes that more chains and other historic articles from early schooner days are visible with lower water levels.

The family enjoyed visiting around the fishing fleet and whitefish purchased from them for their meal aboard Thursday night.

Schulz is in the tool and die business. In summer the family cruises the lake and, winters, goes down the Mississippi to Florida and the Bahamas.

Marvin Ropele, football coach at Niagara High School, is the author of an article in the September issue of The Coaching Clinic, nationally published magazine. Ropele states: "It's our contention that the defense cannot effectively combat our multiple offense."

Ropele demonstrates how his multiple offense has helped him develop highly successful football teams. In his nine years at head coach of the Badgers, Ropele has compiled a record of 40 victories against 18 defeats and four ties. He writes: "Multiple offense is able to run a given offensive area by using one set of blocking rules and can hit this area out of several different backfield alignments. It provides an effective combination of the passing and running game and gives us the opportunity to explode quickly at any vulnerable spot by an audible call."

Ropele's coaching record is impressive. Of the 18 defeats his grid teams have suffered in nine years, 11 of them came in the first four years. Niagara is currently playing an independent schedule with an eye on joining a Wisconsin prep conference in the near future. A graduate of Norway High School where he made all-conference and All U.P. teams as a griddier, Ropele played four years of college at Northern and two years at Fort Lewis in the service. He coached for three years at Powers-Spalding before going to Niagara.

How do you figure out this game of golf? Claude Farrell of Escanaba played for 45 years before scoring his first hole in one at the Country Club this week. But up at Norway Oak Crest, Clark Linn of Kingsford was playing for only the seventh time when he scored an ace on the 130 yard No. 8 hole. It was the sixth hole in one at the Norway course this season.

Coach Frosty Ferzacca of Northern has lost the services of veteran halfback and co-captain Bob Erickson, Wakefield junior, with a shoulder injury. Erickson was Northern's leading ground gainer with 349 yards last fall. Len Trudeau, Norway sophomore, will move into Erickson's running spot.

John Milakovich is the new men's golf champion at Ontonagon, winning the medal tournament with 148 strokes, one ahead of runnerup Bill Peterson. At Munising, the women's club championship was won by Mary Beauparlant with Evelyn Hemmingway the runnerup.

The Menominee softball season came to a close recently with a marathon battle in which Dodge Inn defeated previously undefeated Marinette Marine 4-1 in 15 innings in the tournament finals. Ray Erickson was the winning pitcher, Ken Sterio the loser.

While most Upper Peninsula high schools are completely wrapped up in football at this time of the year, several are getting set for a fall baseball program. Competing in the Mid-Peninsula League which opens Sept. 10 will be Champion, Republic, St. Paul and National Mine. Teams set for action in the Porcupine Mountain Conference are Ironwood St. Ambrose, Bergland, Trout Creek, Ewen, White Pine, Mass. Marenisco, Mercer and Watersmeet.

Chisox Narrow Orioles' Edge Atop AL Race

By The Associated Press
Don McMahon of the Cleveland Indians has pitched the Chicago White Sox to within one percentage point of first place in the hectic American League pennant race. It took him only about 33 minutes and three pitches Friday night as the White Sox nipped the Indians 6-5 in 10 innings. Baltimore, meanwhile, lost to Los Angeles 7-1, giving the Orioles a 600 to 599 lead over Chicago.

McMahon, a veteran relief hurler, made his 60th appearance of the season, coming on at the start of the eighth inning with the Indians leading 4-3. In his first 59 games the 34-year-old right-hander had given up only three homers.

At the same time, the White Sox were one of the weakest home run-hitting teams in the league, having connected only 89 times.

Ron Hansen, Chicago's leadoff batter in the eighth, promptly clouted his 16th homer into the lower left field seats for a 4-4 tie.

McMahon sailed smoothly through the ninth inning, and the Indians rallied for a 5-4 lead on Leon Wagner's run-scoring single in the top of the 10th.

Then came the White Sox 10th.

Pete Ward, the team's leading slugger, led off and powered his 19th homer into the center field bullpen. No sooner had Ward reached the dugout when Bill Skowron connected for his 16th, a drive into the right field seats. In other AL games, New York defeated Kansas City 9-7 in 10 innings, Minnesota crushed Boston 14-3 and Detroit edged Washington 1-0.

The White Sox played their sloppiest defensive game of the season, making five errors. Four of the miscues, by Don Buford, J. C. Martin, Tom McCraw and Hansen, led to two unearned runs off starter Juan Pizarro. The Indians took their 4-3 lead in the eighth on Max Alvis' inside-the-park homer. Jim Landis crashed into the left-center field wall trying for the catch.

Joe Adcock led the Angels' onslaught against the Orioles, hammering two homers and a single, batting in four runs. Willie Smith and Adcock slugged successive homers off reliever Chuck Estrada in the fifth, and Adcock drilled a two-run shot, his 20th, in the seventh.

Emeralds Win 7-6; Hoholik Is Hero

STEPHENSON — Two tremendous defensive plays by senior Rich Hoholik played an important role in Manistique's 7-6 season opening football victory over the Stephenson Eagles here Friday night.

Hoholik, 5 foot 10 inch, 185 pound defensive end, smashed through to block the extra point attempt after Stephenson's first quarter touchdown.

The veteran Emerald line-man repeated his blocking performance on a Stephenson punt late in the fourth quarter to set the stage for Manistique's lone touchdown of the contest.

Stephenson, under new coach Ken Hofer, struck paydirt on a drive following the opening kickoff. The Eagles moved 84 yards in four plays with Paul Dougovito squirting off guard and sprinting 56 yards for the touchdown.

Hoholik's block of an attempted placement kick by Jerry Lutri followed and Stephenson led 6-0.

The Eagles staged the only other scoring threat in the first half, recovering a fumble on the Manistique 36 and moving to the 10 before the drive stalled.

Midway in the third period Eric Blomquist, 6 foot 2 inch senior, intercepted a Stephenson pass at midfield and Coach Dick Bonifas' Emeralds lenced inside the 30 before losing possession on a fumble.

Early in the final period Jon Cameron of Manistique snapped up a Stephenson aerial at midfield and in 10 plays the Emeralds were on the one-foot line. Jerry Belleville and Don Lee carried the brunt of the running attack. But a five yard penalty stymied the Emeralds and they failed to score.

Shortly after, Hoholik blocked a Stephenson punt on the seven yard line. Two plays netted two yards before Belleville cracked over from the five. Manistique's margin of victory came when halfback Darryl Carlson swept end for the extra point to make it 7-6 with three and a half minutes remaining in the game.

The Eagles lost any hopes they had for a comeback when Manistique's Joel Peterson intercepted a pass at midfield and the Emeralds ran out the clock. The Emeralds chalked up 10 first downs to seven for the Eagles, but took a back seat in the rest of the statistics.

Stephenson gained 139 yards rushing and 58 passing for 197 while Manistique picked up 123 on the ground and 23 in the air for 146 total.

Dougovito took individual rushing honors with 94 yards in 14 carries while fullback Tom Raboin added 34 in 7 trips for the Eagles. Belleville led Manistique with 63 yards in 19 attempts, followed by Lee with 38 in 10.

Stephenson quarterback Dave Bush hit on 9 of 20 passes with Raboin on the receiving end of eight of them. Doug Nelson of the Emeralds completed four of seven aerials.

Manistique will make its first home start of the season Friday night against Munising. Stephenson hosts Negaunee Friday night.

Football Fans To Get Treat

By The Associated Press
This is the last week for tinkering with the pro football machines, and some 80,000 people will be on hand tonight at Cleveland to see an exhibition doubleheader, for the third straight year.

The New York Giants, Eastern Division winners in the National Football League, will meet the Detroit Lions in the opener, and the host Browns will face the Green Bay Packers in the second game.

That's the highlight of the last pre-season week for the NFL, but all 14 teams will be in action, 12 tonight, and Baltimore and Pittsburgh Sunday at Canton, Ohio, in the annual Hall of Fame game. CBS will televise that one nationally.

In the American Football League, six of the eight teams will have their final tune-ups tonight. Kansas City beat Houston 27-17 Thursday night.

In other NFL games tonight, the Minnesota Vikings meet the Philadelphia Eagles at Hershey, Pa.; the Dallas Cowboys play the defending champion Chicago Bears at New Orleans, and St. Louis faces Washington at Norfolk, Va.

Pittsburgh owner Art Rooney is among the seven who will be inducted into the Hall of Fame before the Sunday game.

Jim Conzelmann, former coach and club owner, and five players, George Trafton, Clark Hinkle, Ed Healey, Mike Michalske and Roy Lyman complete the list.

In the AFL, Denver will entertain the Boston Patriots, Buffalo goes against the revitalized New York Jets at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and the champion San Diego Chargers play the Oakland Raiders at San Diego.

Detroit Pitcher Wins 17th Game

WASHINGTON (AP)—Detroit pitcher Dave Wickersham is one step nearer the magic 20-victory mark today.

He won No. 17 Friday night in a 1-0 shutout over the Washington Senators, although he needed relief help from Fred Gladding.

It was the third straight shutout loss for the Senators. Wickersham, the third American League pitcher to win 17 games, has another five games to shoot for the 20 marker. He has 10 losses.

In Friday night's game, Wickersham allowed only three hits in eight innings, struck out four and walked four.

The Tigers' winning run came in the second inning. Don Demeter doubled down the left field line, Bill Freehan dropped a single in short right which sent Demeter to third and Demeter went home after John Lock caught Norm Cash's sacrifice fly.

The Senators' Claude Osteen was again the tough-luck loser, failing for the fourth time to win his 13th game.

Osteen had the Senators' only extra-base hit. He had doubled down the right field line in the sixth inning. He was out at third on Ed Brinkman's sacrifice.

fice bunt to Wickersham, who threw to Wert.

The Senators have scored only one run in their last four games and are scoreless through 28 innings.

Mickey Lolich (14-7) will pitch for Detroit today against Buster Narum (9-11).

Callison Johnny-On-Spot As Phils Stretch Lead

By The Associated Press

Gene Mauch didn't need an edge — his flying Phillies have been giving him plenty to work with. But the National League leaders' canny pilot has come up with a new slant anyway. He's become clairvoyant.

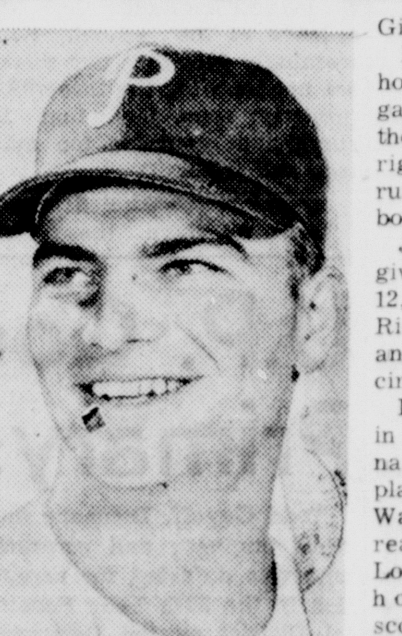

Mauch must have had it figured beforehand when he dropped Johnny Callison, the Phils' most valuable veteran, to seventh in the batting order for Friday night's series opener with San Francisco.

What else but a carefully contrived script could have made Callison Johnny-on-the-spot with the key hit in a four-run, eighth-inning rally that stunned the Giants 5-3 and increased the Phils' first-place margin by another big length.

Mauch may explain that a left-hander — rookie Dick Estelle — started for the Giants, that Callison would feel less pressure in the lower part of the order, etc. But any pennant-crazed Philadelphia fan will tell you the manager had the outcome up his sleeve all the way. Callison delivered his tie-breaking single moments after Frank Thomas had tied the count with a two-run homer off lefty Billy O'Dell. Mauch probably had that one figured last month when the Phils spirited Thomas away from the New York Mets for the express purpose of hitting home runs against southpaw pitching.

While the Phillies were kicking the Giants into fourth place, 7½ games off the pace, Milwaukee's Tony Cloninger dropped runner-up Cincinnati 6½ lengths back with a three-hit 2-0 victory over the Reds.

St. Louis topped the Chicago Cubs 8-5 on Ken Boyer's three-run homer in the ninth and took third place, one percentage point up on the Giants. Pittsburgh

Johnny Callison

Giants over the last two innings.

Eddie Mathews' two-run homer off Joey Jay in the sixth gave Milwaukee's Cloninger all the runs he needed. The Braves right-hander didn't allow a runner past second base in boosting his record to 15-12.

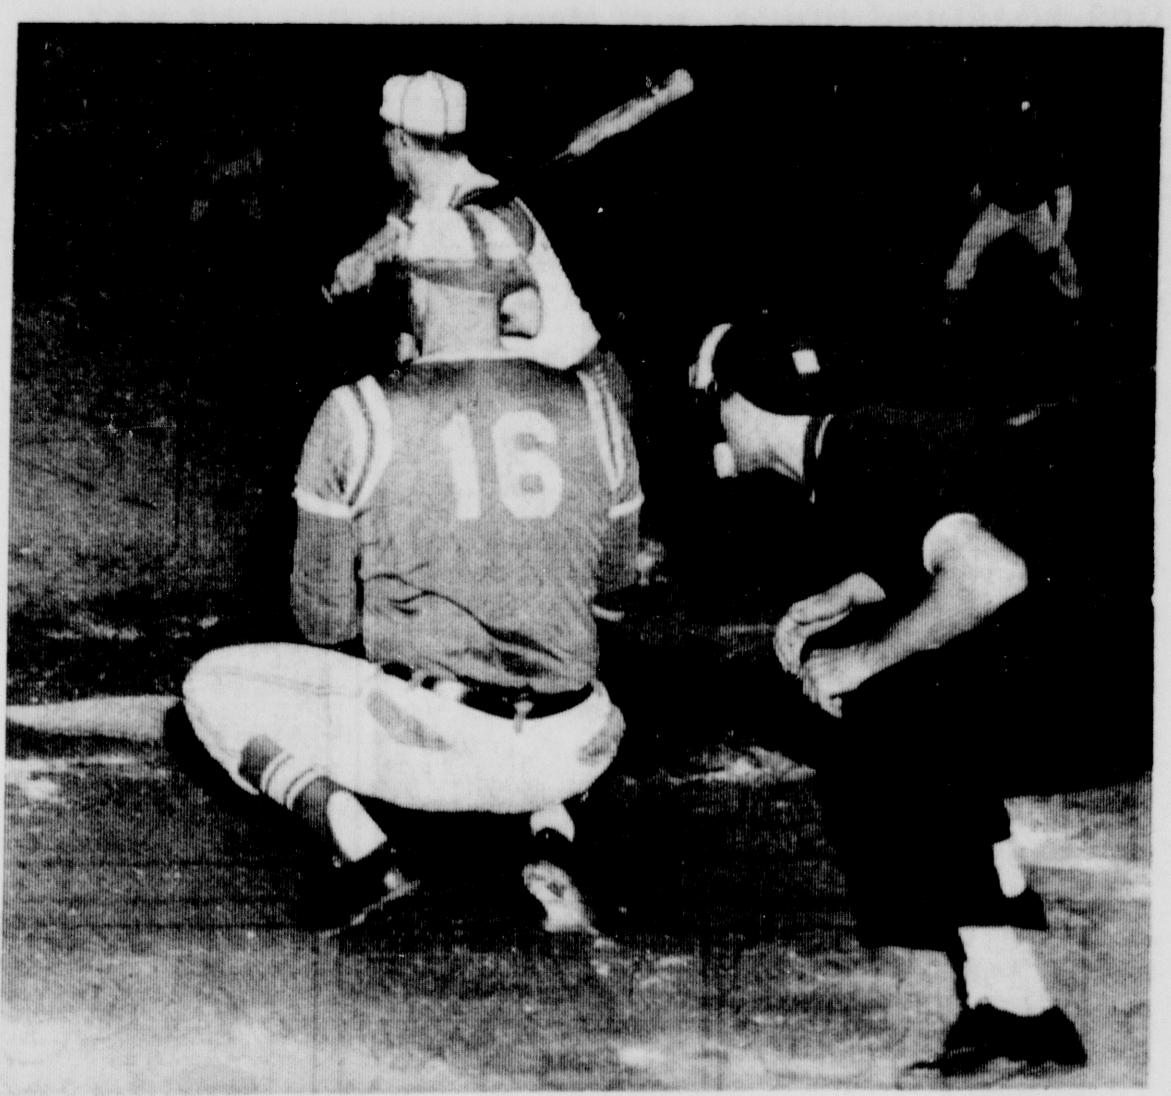

Jay worked eight innings, giving up five hits and fanning 12, but lost his 10th game when Rico Carty singled in the sixth and Mathews clubbed his 22nd circuit.

Boyer connected with two out in the ninth after the Cubs nailed Carl Warwick at the plate on Dick Groat's grounder. Warwick had singled and reached third on a sacrifice and Lou Brock's single. Boyer's 19th homer, off Fred Burdette, scored Brock and Groat and gave the Cardinal third baseman 100 RBI for the year.

Bill Mazeroski drove in four runs with a homer and two singles and Donn Clendenon delivered three with two triples and a single as the Pirates trampled the Colts for southpaw Bob Veale's 15th victory.

Three Mets crossed the plate on Tommy Davis' two-out mis-play of Bobby Klaus' fly ball in the eighth, producing New York's second victory over the Dodgers in 13 season meetings. Trailing 5-2, the Mets put together four singles for one run before Klaus' drive went through the Los Angeles left fielder.

Drysdale gave up an opposite field double to Ed Kranepool in the first inning of the opener, then set down 19 straight Mets en route to his 16th victory. Ninth inning singles by Charlie Smith and Klaus were the only other hits off the Dodger right-hander. Rookie Derrell Griffith led the LA attack with his fourth homer and a run-scoring single.

BILLY GOODREAU of Escanaba Hamms-Merchants, pictured at the plate in Friday night's State Class B softball tournament at Memorial Field, spoiled a no-hit bid by St. Joseph pitcher George Luther. Goodreau singled in the second inning for the lone safety off the Whirlpool fastballer. St. Joseph edged the Escanaba team 2-0. (Daily Press Photo)

Big George Luther and his St. Joe Whirlpools kept fans waiting until the last moment before showing at the state Class B softball tournament at Memorial Field here Friday night.

But the 6 foot 3 inch right-handed fireballer made up for it with a brilliant one-hit pitching performance in a 2-0 victory over Escanaba Hamms-Merchants in the nightcap of the tournament opener before a large grandstand crowd.

The Whirlpool team was delayed in their flight by company plane from St. Joseph and arrived at the Escanaba airport at 8:15 p. m., only 45 minutes before the scheduled start of their game with Hamms-Merchants.

In the first game Friday night Negaunee MULIC rapped downstate Scottville 9-2 as the Upper Peninsula champs swatted 11 safeties off the slants of two enemy hurlers.

Les Meika starred on the mound and at the plate for Negaunee. The big right-hander limited Scottville to five hits. He got his mates off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning by socking a homerun over the left centerfield fence with Tom Lequia aboard.

Al Bjork led the assault on the two Scottville twirlers with three singles in four trips to the plate. Jocko Johnson and Dave Harju contributed two safeties apiece.

In the St. Joe-Escanaba battle, Bill McGovern of Hamms almost matched Luther's mound performance. The husky Rapid River High School cage coach granted only three hits in the game, but one of them proved his undoing.

Bill Hoge, St. Joe center fielder, picked a third inning homer with Al Shafer on first base after striking a single.

The only other hit off McGovern was a single by Luther in the fifth. The Escanaba twirler retired the St. Joseph batters in order in the second, fourth and sixth innings while fanning two and walking one.

Luther chalked up 11 strikeouts in his masterful mound effort and didn't issue a base on balls.

The lone hit by Hamms was a single by Billy Goodreau in the second inning. The only other base runner was Wally Flath, on with an error in the sixth. Luther faced only 23 batters as his mates played flawless ball behind him.

The eight-team double elimination tournament continues with six games today and tonight, four on Sunday and at least two Monday.

Torres Rallies For Ring Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jose Torres needed a strong rally in the closing rounds Friday night to protect his No. 4 welterweight ranking against Gomez Brennan, a game 3-1 underdog.

The Puerto Rican from New York won the eighth and ninth rounds to pick up the margin of victory over his smaller opponent from the Bahamas in the next to last of the television fights.

Judge Barry Pearlman thought the hard - punching Brennan earned a draw, 96 all. Referee Sy Gottfried called it 96-95 in favor of Torres and judge Gus Jacobson voted for the favorite 97-94. It was 98-96 Torres on The Associated Press card.

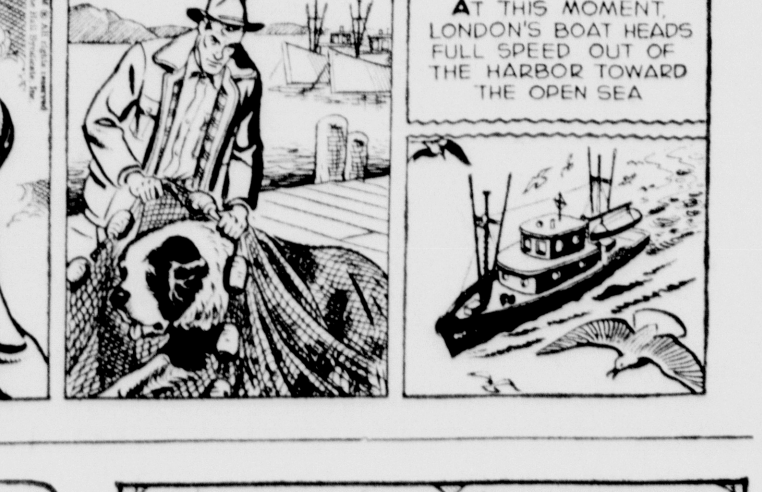

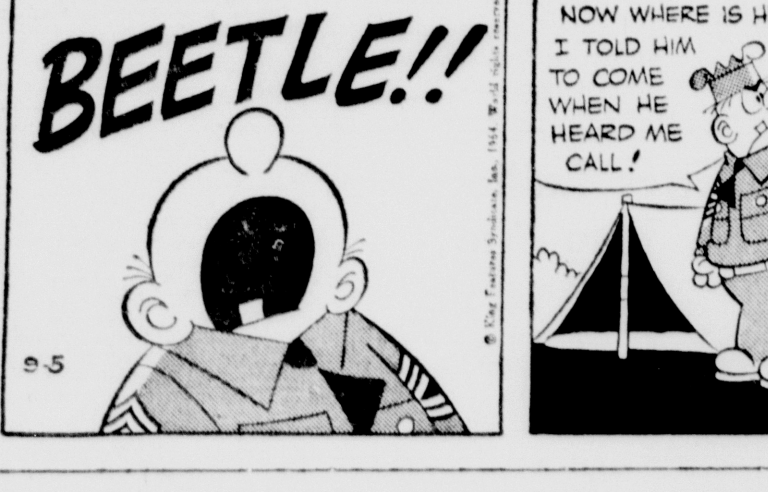

Torres tipped the scales at 167 at the weigh-in but Brennan's manager, Dave Yeomans, said Torres weighed 172½, just before the fight.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE with Major Hoople OUT OUR WAY

Clergyman Sees Need For Understanding Schooling

Rev. Dr. Walfred E. Nelson, pastor of Bethany Lutheran Church of Escanaba wrote the following interpretation of the Escanaba Area's public school financing problem after Tuesday's election in which voters turned down a proposal for a four mill tax for school operation, 5 to 3.

Dr. Nelson suggests the need for an adult education program in depth if the area is to understand the implications of its rejection of modern school costs, a suggestion which is becoming increasingly meaningful with the repeated defeat of school tax proposals in the area.

His statement follows:

The school issue has again gone down in defeat. Evidently a good number of people have forgotten the words of a prophet who spoke to his community. He said: "Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations; spare not; lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes." Well, the fact remains that Escanaba is not going to do anything to widen the place of their educational tent. We will just keep on sparing the curriculum, shorting the ropes and loosing up the pegs which have held our society together.

As a relative newcomer into the Escanaba community and as one having lived in six different states and cities as a public servant, permit me to make some observations with the hope and prayer that in some measure unity can be established in our community and rapport created between our factions.

Deep Conflict

My first observation is that there is a deep conflict going on in Escanaba. Restorers are crying, "let's put the school back to where it was when I was young." But another camp of thought breaks through the turmoil and says: "Let's bring our schools up to the community needs. This contrast and conflict between restoring and creating spreads out into the whole conduct of our community life. Some have never learned that "new occasions teach new duties, time makes ancient good uncouth." Remember that "where there is no vision the people perish."

A number of our Escanaba citizens regardless of social, financial and religious standing should understand clearly that the school is a creature of society, and is its agent for regeneration. It is indeed unfortunate that the conflicting viewpoints about Escanaba's education should be debated and a need defeated in an atmosphere of world tension, uncertainty, and impending war.

It is true that many of the articles written have been unfriendly toward our press, our Board of Education, and toward any progressive program proposed to the community. In fact, some have distorted or misrepresented the facts; and in so doing have challenged the very foundations upon which the public education rests.

In a democratic society it is only natural that a period of educational need and change should be fraught with disagreements and, at times, bitter strife. But the strife centers on the fact that so many not being familiar with modern curricula and methods, they look askance at the school. Some seemingly feel that our schools are not teaching the three "R's" properly; some feel that the curriculum contains too many fads and frills.

Money-Minded

Then we have those who tend to be money-minded who hold our schools cost too much. The fact remains that people do not have the facts nor do they wish to obtain the facts. Educational authority may be considered as a qualified prerogative; but it still remains a fact that in these days the people in the community are slow to believe a thing is true simply on the strength of the educator's ipse dixit. A man cannot be argued, nor argue himself, out of what he himself personally testifies to.

What I know, I know even if it is something that I do not like to know. Modern education urges support for democracy as a way of life but some individuals do not conceive of our society as a democracy.

My second observation is that too often the objective has been to weaken or destroy public education. Some would challenge the legal basis for public education and urge a return to nonpublic schools. Although no evidence has been produced to support these charges except by misrepresentation or distortion of facts, the very fact that these charges have been thrown around cast certain suspicions upon the public school.

There are those who honestly doubt the propriety of being required to pay taxes to educate the children of other people. In addition, there are those who reason that because the public schools are non-sectarian they must be atheistic and anti-religious. In times of tension such people are ever ready to be misled by sensational charges.

People Unsettled

Another observation is that our Board of Education has to address themselves to people who are in almost every respect in a condition of unsettlement and revolt, and to the extent that the Board realizes that fact it will be one of their aims to secure in people quietness and establishment of mind. When we speak into a storm our voices will not carry. People feel together, but think apart.

If public education is to continue to be the tremendous force which it has been in building a community unity, in underpinning cultural, social, and economic progress, and in fostering the democratic way of life, the issues which now tend to disunify Escanaba must be discussed widely, thoroughly, and clearly. The people must be educated to make wise decisions.

I have come to believe that some of our good people have not been educated to reason, and methods of lay education have to rise to the challenge to make their knowledge available so that the issues may be discussed fully and without passion. Now is the time in Escanaba that knowledge, based on sound data, must be made available in the form in which the issues may be understood clearly.

In other words, the content and methods of lay education about education must be the goal. Until it becomes evident that our schools are approved and appreciated by its patrons there will be nothing but strife.

Vision Is Vital

Remember that "where there is no vision the people perish." As your schools go so goes the community. Men must be impelled from within as well as from without. Rockets may carry men as if on the wings of sound. Energies may project their voices and vision at the speed of light. Time and space may be bridged with technology.

Reserve Unit Is Rated High

The 312th Engineer Co. (Supply Point), 718 Ludington St. has received top ratings this summer, announced Capt. Robert A. Carr, Commander.

The Company, local Army Reserve unit which trains at the Army Reserve Center here, received a Superior rating on its annual general inspection on training, administration, supply and maintenance procedures. The unit attended two weeks summer training at Granite City, Ill., Army Depot, in July and received an overall rating of Superior for the encampment.

This week, the 312th was given a command maintenance and management inspection by an inspection team from headquarters, Sixth Army Corps, Battle Creek. The 312th again received an outstanding rating.

Captain Carr pointed out that the 312th is an Army Reserve unit and its members are men from the local area who are fulfilling their military obligation through the Army Reserve program.

At the present time, the company has vacancies in the fields of supply, heavy vehicle drivers, warehouse specialist, and heavy equipment mechanics. Any young men between the ages of 17 and 26 who are interested in fulfilling their military obligation with a short period of active duty through the Army Reserve program can contact the army reserve center, 718 Ludington St., or call ST 6-5423 for information.

U.P. Goofed In Primary: Gayeff

Todd Gayeff, Escanaba electrical engineer and contractor who was defeated for nomination in the 37th State Senatorial District on the Democratic ticket in Tuesday's primary today said two things:

1. "Thank you, voters, who supported my candidacy."
2. "There was not only confusion in the election; there was a lack of common sense and we lost our senatorial seat."

Gayeff said that he had been dilatory in his declaration of intention to run and that with more time a better result could be obtained, but that he was concerned about the implications of the voting.

Redistricting reduced the Upper Peninsula from three state senators to one and a half. The eastern half of the Upper Peninsula is in the 37th District, which also includes 8 counties in the Lower Peninsula.

If U. P. voters follow their pattern of Tuesday they will never elect a senator in the 37th, Gayeff suggested. The nearer one approaches to the Mackinac Bridge, he said, the more the vote was for the downstate candidate. Delta gave

Typhoon Batters Hona Kona, Worst In Two Decades

HONG KONG (AP)—Typhoon Ruby scored a bullseye on Hong Kong today with 160 mile-an-hour winds. At least 15 persons perished, 35 are missing and feared dead and 250 were hurt. The weather bureau said it was the first typhoon in two decades to pass directly over Hong Kong.

Twenty-seven persons were reported missing when the ship Dorar sank in Hong Kong harbor. Thirty members of the crew were rescued.

Police and emergency service forces dug frantically at many collapsed homesites in hopes of rescuing the families buried inside. A police spokesman said the continuing heavy downpour probably would cause more landslides and house collapses.

Ruby passed directly over Hong Kong and headed for Canton in Communist China, according to the weather bureau. It was one of the worst typhoons to hit Hong Kong in years.

Army PFC James L. Minor,

Outstanding U.P. Job Training To Be Expanded

By Jean Worth

LANSING — The Upper Peninsula has achieved a job training excellence which is the star performance for all of Michigan and it will be in important unit of the upcoming War on Poverty campaign.

"The Manpower Development & Training Program in the Upper Peninsula is one of the best in the country," says Bert Whalen of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office in Detroit, which administers the program.

"Primarily the program is at Michigan Tech at Houghton and Northern Michigan University at Marquette, with Al Gazvoda, field supervisor for the MES in the Upper Peninsula, and Anthony Cossi, training director, coordinating the activities.

"This Outstanding U. P. program is in the training center concept of the War on Poverty program. The Upper Peninsula program has been placing about 90 per cent of the persons it trains for jobs, although placement of some of them takes a little time. Many go to jobs in Wisconsin.

Existing Program

"The aim of the program is to teach job skills. Northern has been teaching auto repair, auto body work, machine shop skills, welding, clerical skills, and nursing.

"Tech has had the technical phase and at its Ford Forestry Center at Alberta has taught wood industry skills to trainees from the Upper Peninsula and from Wisconsin and Minnesota. This program, training lumber scalars, sawyers, surveyors, engineer aides, diesel mechanics and others is going to be expanded. Many of the persons equipped with these new skills

24, whose wife, Irene, lives at 1226 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, is participating in a joint Army Air Force exercise at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.

Minor entered the Army in November 1963, completed basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga., and is a gunner in Company A, 1st Battalion of the division's 18th Infantry, regularly stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

The son of John W. Minor, Trenary, he attended Trenary High School and was employed by Champion Con. in Iron Mountain, before entering the Army.

Staff Sergeant Spencer D. Burruss, son of Mrs. Annabelle Burruss of 407 McCreary St., Flint, has arrived for duty with Headquarters Command's Bolling AFB, D.C.

Sergeant Burruss, an aide to Chief of Staff of the Air Force, General Curtis E. LeMay, previously served at Cross City AF Station, Fla.

The sergeant, whose grandmother, Mrs. Ella Pace, resides at 1212 N. 16th St., Escanaba, Mich., is a graduate of Escanaba Senior High School.

His wife, Beverly, is the daughter of Lewis F. Burrell of Duke Center, Pa.

Airman First Class Lawrence G. Frappier, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Frappier of 223 N. 19th St., Escanaba, has arrived for duty with a unit of the Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) at Tainan Air Station, Formosa. His new unit supports the PACAF mission of providing airpower for defense of the U.S. and its allies in the Pacific area.

A graduate of Holy Name High School, the airman attended San Antonio (Tex.) College during his off-duty hours.

have migrated from the area to take jobs elsewhere."

The Area Redevelopment Program, active in the Upper Peninsula and a forerunner and component of the War on Poverty, started in January 1962, and has been operative for two and a half years. It expires June 30, 1965. Appropriations for this program, which is 100 per cent federally financed now, will (if it is renewed) be borne one third by the State of Michigan for fiscal 1966, and one-half by the state thereafter.

More State Taxes

The federal "honeymoon" on this program is expiring and its cost, if continued, will be borne increasingly by the state. The state pays the cost at present with its contribution of federal taxes, and gets money back from Washington. The project is more direct local taxation for the program, plus federal taxation, with federal control.

The federal Manpower Development & Training Act became operative July 1, 1962. Its continuance for next year has been authorized by Congress, but Congress has not yet appropriated money for its continuing operation. Here, too, a federal program financed wholly by the federal government in its first phase will shift part of its cost directly to the state.

The federal government is spending $15 million in federal funds on MD&T in the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1965. The budget will be the same for fiscal 1966, but the State of Michigan will be asked to contribute $5 million of the cost.

Effect Pronounced

These federal programs are under the administration of the Labor Department and the Department of Health, Education & Welfare. Labor works at the state level through the Michigan Employment Security Commission and HEW works through the Division of Vocational Education of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, with Robert Winger in charge.

Whalen said that his office was planning use of Bay de Noc Community College and such institutions where they have the facilities for the training of persons for jobs, as well as using the facilities of Tech and NMU.

Officials of the Department of Public Instruction said "There is no question that the effects of the 1964 Economic Opportunity Act (War on Poverty) can be far reaching, but the specific planning is only now in process. Undoubtedly there will be in Michigan a youth program, a job corps, work training, and university and college study programs which will pay part of the cost of schooling students who are in part time employment and from low income families.

"The work training program will be similar to on-the-job training and under the Manpower Development and Training Program."

Treasury Aide To Campaign

LANSING (AP)—State Treasurer Sanford Brown has announced the resignation of Jerome Hart as his executive assistant in the State Treasury to campaign for the Senate.

Hart is the Democratic candidate for state senator in the new 34th Senatorial District which takes in Saginaw and Bay City. Hart said he plans a full-time campaign in his Senate bid.

POLES GO UP at the Fairgrounds to be chopped down later in contest as part of the events of the Logging Congress to be held in Escanaba Sept. 10-12. Pictured are Robert Iverson, Clay Carlson, Claude Tobin and Don Trotter at the site as the 23 popple poles are erected. Marathon Corp., U.P. Power Co., Michigan Bell, and Earl Iverson cooperated in obtaining and erecting the poles. Felling trees, basic to the harvest of any product of the woods industry, requires skill and safety practices be exercised and this will be demonstrated in the contest. Substantial cash prizes as well as trophies will be awarded winners in that and other contests. (Daily Press Photo)

Land Exchanges In U.P. Sought

Land acquisition in Dickinson County, a land exchange in Luce County and leasing of land for iron ore exploration in Marquette County are among the items on the agenda for the Michigan Conservation Commission's September meeting in Detroit Sept. 10-11.

Commissioners will be asked to approve acquisition of 40 acres of land in the Sturgeon River State Forest in Dickinson County for $1,300 for use in the Sturgeon River impoundment project.

The parcel, owned by Elwood and Ethlyn Tompkins of Iron Mountain, is entirely surrounded by state-owned land. It would be covered by 10 acres of the proposed 50-acre fish habitat impoundment on the South Branch of the East Branch of the Sturgeon River.

"This is a priority project under the Accelerated Public Works program, for which the construction contracts cannot be let until the land is acquired," said Charles E. Millar, chief of lands for the Conservation Department.

"If this land were to remain in private ownership, the only feasible access to it by the owner would be by road over the proposed dam. The additional construction costs involving the construction of such road access over the dam would be in excess of the cost of the parcel."

The Luce County land exchange proposal would give the public nearly 3,000 feet of frontage on the Tahquamenon River. It is proposed that G. G. Withey of Washington, D.C., acquire 55.88 acres in the Lake Superior State Forest from the Goodman Division of Calumet & Hecla, Inc., and exchange this for half an acre of state-owned land on Douglas Lake in Cheboygan County.

The Tahquamenon River property would be used as part of a program to provide canoe overnight stops along the river.

The proposed exchange would be subject to reservation of merchantable timber to the

Gogebic County Tract Proposed For Recreation

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan forestry experts will help the government decide whether to purchase a tract in Gogebic County for development as a recreation area.

The Sylvania tract, which includes 14,000 acres of near-virgin timber and 4,000 acres of lakes and streams, is owned jointly by the estate of the late Laurence P. Fisher and by the Christiansen brothers of Phelps, Wis. It will be sold in the near future.

Paul E. Nickel, a doctoral student in forestry, will study tourist and private recreation facilities in Gogebic County and Vilas County, Wis., and interview representatives of the recreation and resort business in the area.

Jewish New Year Starts Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Jews throughout the world gather at sunset Sunday to observe Rosh Hashanah, the start of the Jewish new year, 5725.

The observance in synagogues — opening with the traditional wail of rams' horns — introduces the 10-day high holiday period of penitence that ends with Yom Kippur. That day, Sept. 16, is for fasting and atonement.

The Jewish new year is a period of prayerful self-examination.

Detroit Shipping Not Affected By Low Lake Levels

DETROIT (AP)—The director of the Detroit-Wayne County Port Commission says low water levels on the Great Lakes haven't hurt overseas shipping to Detroit.

Andrew W. Fleming said Friday Detroit has not lost ships to other ports, and cargo handled since April is 146,714 net tons—a 45.6 per cent increase over the same period of 1963.

Fleming said East Coast ports are sponsoring advertisements about the effect of low water on overseas commerce in the St. Lawrence Seaway as part of a continuing battle against the seaway.

But, he said, the lowest depth between the port of Detroit and the seaway still is more than 27 feet.

Assassin Plot At Atlantic City Only A Rumor

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House Press Secretary George E. Reedy described as "rumors" Friday reports of an alleged threat against President Johnson during last week's Democratic National Convention at Atlantic City, N.J.

In Austin, Tex., Democratic National Committeeman Frank Erwin, who had discussed the alleged plot in a speech to the Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce Thursday, said Friday he had no direct knowledge of it.

The FBI and the Secret Service said no arrests had been made and the FBI said it was not investigating.

Michigan Grape Crop Doubled

LANSING (AP)—The first of a gigantic crop of 72,000 tons of Michigan grapes is starting to reach the market, the State Agriculture Department reports. The crop is more than double last year's production of 33,500 tons when state vineyards were hit hard by bad weather.
